

Billion Dollar Flood Paralyzes Kansas City; 13 Known Dead

Crest To Top Previous High By Half Foot

Kansas City, (AP) — The worst flood in local history surged into the twin cities of Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., last night, bringing near paralysis to this metropolitan area of 900,000 population.

With three major industrial districts under water and fire burning in an oil storage tank area of two square blocks the city council proclaimed a state of emergency.

Mayor William E. Kemp and City Manager L. P. Cookingham earlier had requested that all non-essential businesses close in Kansas City.

Residents were asked to remain in their homes unless on essential business.

The water supply in Kansas City, Mo., and suburbs supplied by that city's water plant were reduced sharply by the flooding of Turkey creek pumping station, which supplies half the normal water supply for 600,000 persons.

Meanwhile, Army engineers recommended evacuation of North Kansas City, an industrial area north of the Missouri river from the Kansas City, Mo., business district.

They also advised the Municipal airport to move all of its equipment to higher ground.

The evacuation was ordered after the Weather bureau predicted a flood crest half a foot higher than the 103 top—greatest flood on record heretofore. This would pour the water over the dikes.

Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of the Army Engineers, told reporters in Washington that damage from the flood, which devastated much of eastern Kansas before pouring into Kansas City, could reach $1,000,000,000.

Thirteen persons are known to have lost their lives since the floods started three days ago, and there were unconfirmed reports yesterday that three more died in Kansas City, Kas., when a boat capsized.

In Washington, the House Appropriations committee will meet in special session today to consider a $15,000,000 emergency relief bill for flood stricken Kansas and Missouri.

Three major industrial districts were flooded—up to second story windows in some places.

Fires, washed-out bridges, submerged airports, broken telephone and telegraph lines, flooded railroad tracks virtually isolated every major city in the rich Kansas (Kaw) river valley from the river's mouth in Kansas City to its source above Junction City, Kas., 150 miles to the west. Thousands are homeless in the Kaw valley and Kansas City. Many are marooned and large numbers have been saved in thrilling rescue efforts.

Just as Kansas City was feeling the full impact of the flood, two oil storage tanks exploded at the bulk stations of the Phillips Petroleum Co. and the Socony Vacuum Oil Co. in Kansas City, Mo., only a short distance from the state line.

Other structures and oil companies were threatened and firemen answering the multi-alarm call waded waste-deep water to fight the blaze.

Truman Invites Political Fight With Douglas

Washington, (AP) — President Truman yesterday rebuffed Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) by naming only one of three men sponsored by Douglas to fill vacancies in Illinois Federal courts.

The White House announcement rekindled political rumors of coolness between Mr. Truman and Douglas, and set the stage for a possible serious rift in Democratic party ranks.

A permanent breach might even have national repercussions in the 1952 elections since Douglas has followers who are boosting his stock as a potential candidate for the White House.

Whether Douglas would fight the nominations in the Senate remains to be seen. He could probably block them if he chose, because the Senate does not usually approve nominees if their home state senator declares them objectionable to him.

Governor Seeks To Halt Rioting

Cicero, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said yesterday he plans to use a division of National Guard troops, if necessary, to restore order following three days of riots.

The governor talked to a news conference in Springfield while five companies of guardsmen patrolled a large residential area in Cicero and adjoining Berwyn, Chicago suburbs following three days of riots.

Law and order broke down after a Negro bus driver attempted to move his family—himself, his wife and two small children—into a Cicero apartment.

House Spurs HST's Request To Set Up Defense Agencies

Washington, (AP) — A rebellious House shot new holes in the administration's economic controls bill yesterday.

By a vote of 52 to 39, the chamber rejected President Truman's request for unlimited authority to set up new Federal corporations to spur defense production or assist in control measures.

Miss Truman Has Kind Word For U. S. Men

New York, (AP) — Margaret Truman, one of the nation's most eligible girls, came home from her first European tour yesterday, fancy-free and singing the praises of American men.

"Give me American men," said President Truman's only child. "Continental men are very charming, but there is nothing like the gentlemen at home."

Then just as newsmen wouldn't misunderstand, Margaret grinned and added: "Gentlemen—that's plural."

Miss Truman said she was glad to get off the liner Constitution. "I'm a good sailor," she explained, "as she ended her seven-weeks tour. 'But nothing looks as wonderful as land.'"

Her mother, Mrs. Bess Truman, was waiting to hug her when the gangplank went down.

"I had a wonderful trip," gushed daughter.

"You look wonderful," beamed mother.

Like any girl, Margaret brought home a hat and dress from Paris. She also brought a gift for her father—but it's a surprise and she wouldn't say what it was.

Harriman Plane Departs After 20-Minute Delay

Washington, (AP) — Averell Harriman took off yesterday on his presidential mission to oil-troubled Iran, after a 20-minute delay caused by a Friday the thirteenth accident at National airport.

The military plane carrying President Truman's foreign affairs adviser to Iran, for talks intended to help solve the British-Iranian oil dispute, was not directly involved.

It had just made its turn preparatory to heading for the take-off runway when a four-seater private plane piloted by Leonard Cecil of Washington made a forced landing from about 200 to 300 feet in the air, blew out a tire and went into a groundspin.

Harriman's pilot stopped his ship abruptly, 200 feet away. It was not allowed to proceed until fire-fighting equipment had been cleared from the scene. Cecil, who was unhurt, said his engine failed suddenly.

U. S. Seeks To Establish Buffer Zone Along Present Battle Line

Allies Await Reply From Communists

Seoul, Korea, Saturday (AP) —The Allies awaited a Red reply today to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's demand that Communist soldiers get out of Kaesong and the Reds show other proofs of good faith if cease-fire talks are to be resumed.

Since shortly after 1:35 p.m. Friday, the next move has been up to the Reds.

At that hour, radios beamed to the Reds a statement by General Ridgway, Allied supreme commander, on why there have been no talks since Wednesday and the three "primary prerequisites" for getting them started again.

He accused the Reds of objectionable tactics from the start of the talks Tuesday.

(Voice of America broadcast from the United States accused the Communist of "bad faith" at Kaesong and also charged they were building up land and air power in Manchuria and Red China.)

One—Clear Kaesong of armed guards and also the five-mile area radiating from its center—or pick another site with such a neutral setting.

Two—Permit complete freedom of movement to and from the conference site.

Three—Allow each side to send anyone they wished, up to 150 persons, including "representatives of the press," to the conference site.

"If you agree to these proposals," Ridgway said, "the present recess can be terminated and the conference resumed without delay and with some expectation of progress."

Ridgway told the Reds that "since the first meeting at Kaesong your delegation has placed restrictions on the movement of our delegation."

He emphasized that the recess since Wednesday was "solely due to those unreasonable and unnecessary restrictions against which my representatives have repeatedly protested."

On the contrary, he said the Allies had shown such good faith that the record "is open for world inspection" and "establishes beyond any shadow of doubt their honorable intentions and good faith at every stage of the proceedings."

Some indication that the Communist position remained unchanged came from a message sent Friday by North Korean Gen. Nam Il, head Red delegate, in reply to a message Thursday from Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief Allied negotiator.

Nam firmly rejected Admiral Joy's demand that 20 Allied correspondents be allowed to visit Kaesong, although they were not to have attended the conference.

The initial meetings were reported only through brief Allied communiqués, second-hand "briefings" and Communist broadcasts.

Weary Yachtsman Describes Battle With Sharks While Adrift In Life-Ring At Sea

Pearl Harbor, (AP) — Steel-nerved Ted Sierks told yesterday in a ship-to-ship radio interview how he stabbed to death a shark which nibbled at his feet during the 30 hours he was adrift in a life ring in mid-Pacific.

He also said he fended off "more (sharks) than I can remember" before his miraculous rescue.

The 40-year-old Avalon, Calif., yachtsman fell off the racing sloop, L'Apache, Wednesday 810 miles northeast of Honolulu. He was plucked from the eight-foot waves Thursday afternoon by the destroyer-escort Douglas A. Munro.

In good health but weary he admitted had been on the point of despair after several searchers had come close without sighting him.

Yesterday, talking by radio from the rescue vessel, Sierks told about the seven-foot shark:

"It was after my bare feet. It kinda nibbled on them. I grabbed it by the tail, turned it over and ripped its belly with my sailor knife. The shark had circled around and kept eyeing me for 15 to 20 minutes before it came in."

"The whole thing was over in 30 minutes. Fortunately, I had my knife with me. I thought I might have to use it."

He killed the shark in daylight Wednesday, a few hours after he fell overboard from L'Apache, a contestant in the 2,225-mile Los Angeles-Honolulu yacht race, while repairing a broken boom tackle.

Other crew members of the yacht, skippered by Phyllis B. Brunson of Hollywood, tossed Sierks two life-rings.

By the time the sloop could put about, however, only one empty ring was visible. Then began a search, with fading hopes, by many ships.

Unknown to the searchers, Sierks had gotten into one of the rings.

Sierks said he saw sharks only during the day.

"Thank God they didn't come after me at night," he exclaimed.

Sierks said he could have held out only three or four hours more when he was picked up.

"I was falling asleep in my buoy (life-ring). I couldn't keep my banal . . . I think I owe my life to the whole pattern of things. To the Creator and to the Navy."

U. N. Patrols Advance Up To 5 Miles

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Saturday (AP) — Allied patrol advances up to five miles secured a ridgeline southeast of Kumsong on the Korean east-central front yesterday against stubborn Red resistance. Fighting continued until 9 p. m.

This limited-objective attack was the only significant action on the Korean front.

Platoon-sized (about 40-man) Red patrols with mortars and small arms opposed some Allied troops elsewhere.

There were continuing reports, however, that the Reds were strengthening their main lines during the current lull.

One Allied officer on the western front said there was nothing to indicate the Communists were ready to launch an offensive in the near future but "their capabilities are increasing."

Latest available estimates place the total Red strength, all along the line and in close reserve, at 350,000 men. An Eighth Army spokesman said there was nothing to indicate concentrations in any one area.

Despite unfavorable weather, Allied fighters and fighter-bombers flew 300 sorties up to 6 p. m. yesterday attacking Red gun positions, railroad yards at Suncheon, and a bridge near Kyompo.

Two small Red planes were shot down, one Thursday night and one yesterday morning not far from Munsan, vicinity of the Allied "peace camp." The wreckage of one fell inside Allied lines. It contained the bodies of two young North Koreans. A passport on one indicated he had studied in Russia.

In Washington, the U. S. Army estimated enemy casualties in Korea from the beginning of the fighting through July 4 were 1,202,928. This was an increase of 11,506 since the last estimate nine days earlier.

Mayor Pays $25 Fine For Hitting Chief Of Police

Haverhill, Mass., (AP) — The mayor paid a $25 fine yesterday for assaulting his police chief after both gave a judge a blow-by-blow account which agreed on this point only—there was a fight.

Police Chief William J. Collins—age 58, weight 185, height 6 feet one—charged he was punched "four or five times" last Monday in the mayor's office by Mayor Joseph L. Willett—age 45, weight 185, height 6 feet two.

About 200 spectators jammed the courtroom which normally seats 65 when the tall mayor—who pleaded innocent to a charge of assault and battery—said he did not punch the chief.

"I don't go around striking people," said the mayor. "Whatever I did was in trying to protect myself."

The chief said the mayor wanted to shake up the police department and he opposed it. The mayor said it started because the chief "called me something President Truman called Drew Pearson."

Acheson Backs Demand Made By Ridgway

Washington, (AP) — The U. S. is seeking a Korean armistice agreement which would establish a buffer zone along the present battle line—mostly north of the 38th parallel.

This was indicated in a question and answer exchange at Secretary of State Acheson's news conference yesterday. Acheson also endorsed fully Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's demand on the Communists that Korean truce talks be resumed in a completely neutral zone with free access for negotiating teams of both sides.

In discussing the present disruption of the talks—which officials here hope may be resumed shortly—Acheson declined to go beyond what Ridgway, the U. N. commander, has already said about the conduct of the Communists.

Acheson did say, however, that performance is the test of the Reds' attitude and that the world will be able to judge by their performance what they intend to do.

A reporter then recalled that during the MacArthur hearings Acheson had said he would consider a settlement of the war along the 38th parallel as a victory for the United Nations forces in that it would mean the Red conquest of South Korea had been prevented. He was asked whether he was talking in this connection about a settlement precisely on the parallel or in the area of the parallel.

He replied that he was not talking about the line in an exact surveyor's sense but meant the general area. Pressed as to whether he would favor withdrawal of United Nations forces from their present positions north of the parallel he declined to define his views exactly but stated emphatically that he has not said anything that would indicate that he favored withdrawal south of the parallel.

What he said on the record in this respect coincided with information from other officials that the United States feels that the present area of troop dispositions offers a better basis for working out an armistice than would redeployment of forces on the parallel. Redeployment, furthermore, would require a substantial withdrawal by U. N. forces on the central and eastern fronts.

In discussing the problems of the present breakdown of the talks, Acheson reminded reporters that Ridgway had stated publicly that he agreed to Kaesong as a meeting place as an act of good faith and in expectation that the Communists would also act in good faith. However, the Reds imposed restrictions on newsmen which amounted to denying to the U. N. negotiators freedom of movement and freedom of control over their delegation membership.

While his comments were carefully restrained, the Voice of America struck out hard at the Communists, aiming its blows in part at Premier Stalin on the apparent theory that he is responsible ultimately for what happens. It asked Stalin:

"Do you want the shooting, the killing, in Korea to stop or do you want it to continue?"

The Voice—the State department's radio to overseas—said the Communist "buildup of 500,000 troops in Manchuria" and "the 1,000-plane air force being assembled in Red China" are proof of bad faith.

Further, it cited the Communist refusal to permit United Nations reporters in the conference city of Kaesong and the presence there of Communist armed guards.

Voice broadcast was prepared as a deliberate counter-offensive to Communist propaganda. It carried a line of reasoning that the Reds probably want an end to the shooting but still want to reap "propaganda dividends."

Farmer Killed By Runaway Horses

Meadville, (AP) — A team of runaway horses knocked John Berenda, 66-year-old farmer of Linesville, P. D., from his hay fodder yesterday and then dragged him to death under the sharp-forked machine.

Berenda was found about three hours after the accident. His family and neighbors began searching for him because he failed to come in for lunch.

Yoch Family To Present Memorial Pew

Mrs. Russell Yoch and sons, Russell and Allen, will present to Grace Ev. Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, a memorial pew in memory of Charles J. Yoch, at the 11 a. m. service Sunday. A sterling silver marker will be inscribed and permanently affixed to the memorial pew.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brewer will also present to the church, during the Sunday services, a walnut cabinet to be affixed to the west wall of the narthex, containing the cremated remains of the late $300 bond and the match case used to ignite the first and last bonds. The beautiful walnut cabinet was made by Roy Walter, of East Stroudsburg RD 1. It will be a visible reminder to the congregation of the toll, money and sacrifice of yesterday and point them to continued labor of the Lord, both at home and across the world.

Rev. W. F. Wunder's sermon theme will be: "The Prodigal Son." The altar flowers will be placed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fuls and the bulletins presented by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brewer in honor of their 34th wedding anniversary. Miss Lois Wagner and Mrs. LeRoy Morris will be in charge of the nursery conducted during the service. Harold W. Siegfried, Kenneth Heckman, Joseph T. Pierce and Charles D. Slutter will serve as ushers.

Mrs. Edwin Miller of Endicott, N. Y. will serve as guest soprano soloist. She will sing "How Lovely is The Hand Of God" by Loughborough. The chancel choir will sing the anthem "Out Of The Depths" by Scott, with Mrs. Nellie Meichner singing the solo obligato. Miss Bunnell will preside at the console and Carroll R. All will direct the choir.

Vacation Bureau Supports Senator Crowe's Stand On Taxes

Points Out State Can Set Example

Joining the regional campaign of support of Senator Montgomery F. Crowe's stand against an income, sales or mercantile tax in Pennsylvania and his bid for economy in state government, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau threw its unqualified support behind the senator.

Edward C. Jenkins, president of the Vacation Bureau, wired Senator Crowe as follows this week:

Hon. Montgomery F. Crowe,
Senate Office
Harrisburg, Pa.

The 189 members of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau congratulate you on your courageous stand in opposing Governor Fine's tax program and urge you and your staff to keep pressing for economy in each and every governmental department. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has an opportunity unique in history to be an example to the other 47 States and to the Federal Government in stopping useless governmental waste. Congratulations and best wishes.

Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, representing hundreds of individuals and firms, has also filed a protest against the Fine tax program and endorsed Senator Crowe's position.

Yang Opposes Split Korea

Philadelphia (AP)—The Korean ambassador to the United States said yesterday his country is against any cease-fire that would leave Korea divided.

"Any peace, armistice, truce, cease-fire—call it what you will—leaving the war-torn country divided will be a sell-out," Dr. Yu Chan Yang added.

"A truce at Parallel 38 is absolutely against the principals of my government and the people of Korea," Dr. Yang said.

Dr. Yang said the United States was "responsible for dividing Korea, and now she must unite us."

The U. S. finally gave up after trying for two years to unite the north and south of Korea, he said.

Dr. Yang made his statements at a press conference before addressing the annual convention of the Pennsylvania department, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Had the U. S. occupation forces remained in Korea, training ROK forces and providing them with arms as the Russians did for the Communists in North Korea," Dr. Yang said, "The present situation might never have developed."

"Korea begged for arms, and still is begging for them."

The Koreans have had their fill of Communism, he said, and want only to live as free, independent democratic people.

Even with 3,000,000 casualties in Korea, the Koreans are ready to fight with arms or fists, choosing to die rather than live under the Communist yoke," the ambassador said.

He said the 3,000,000 casualties represented about 10 per cent of the population, with property damage running into untold millions.

Dr. Yang said the Communists are dictating the cease-fire moves in Korea, even to details such as the barring of U. N. correspondents.

These details, he warned, will mushroom into greater demands later on.

He viewed the cease-fire as a delaying action by the Communists, giving them time to regroup and reorganize for greater blows.

Later, speaking before the VFW, he set forth a five-point peace program for his embattled homeland. It proposed:

"One—The Chinese Communists must withdraw beyond the Korean traditional boundaries into Manchuria.

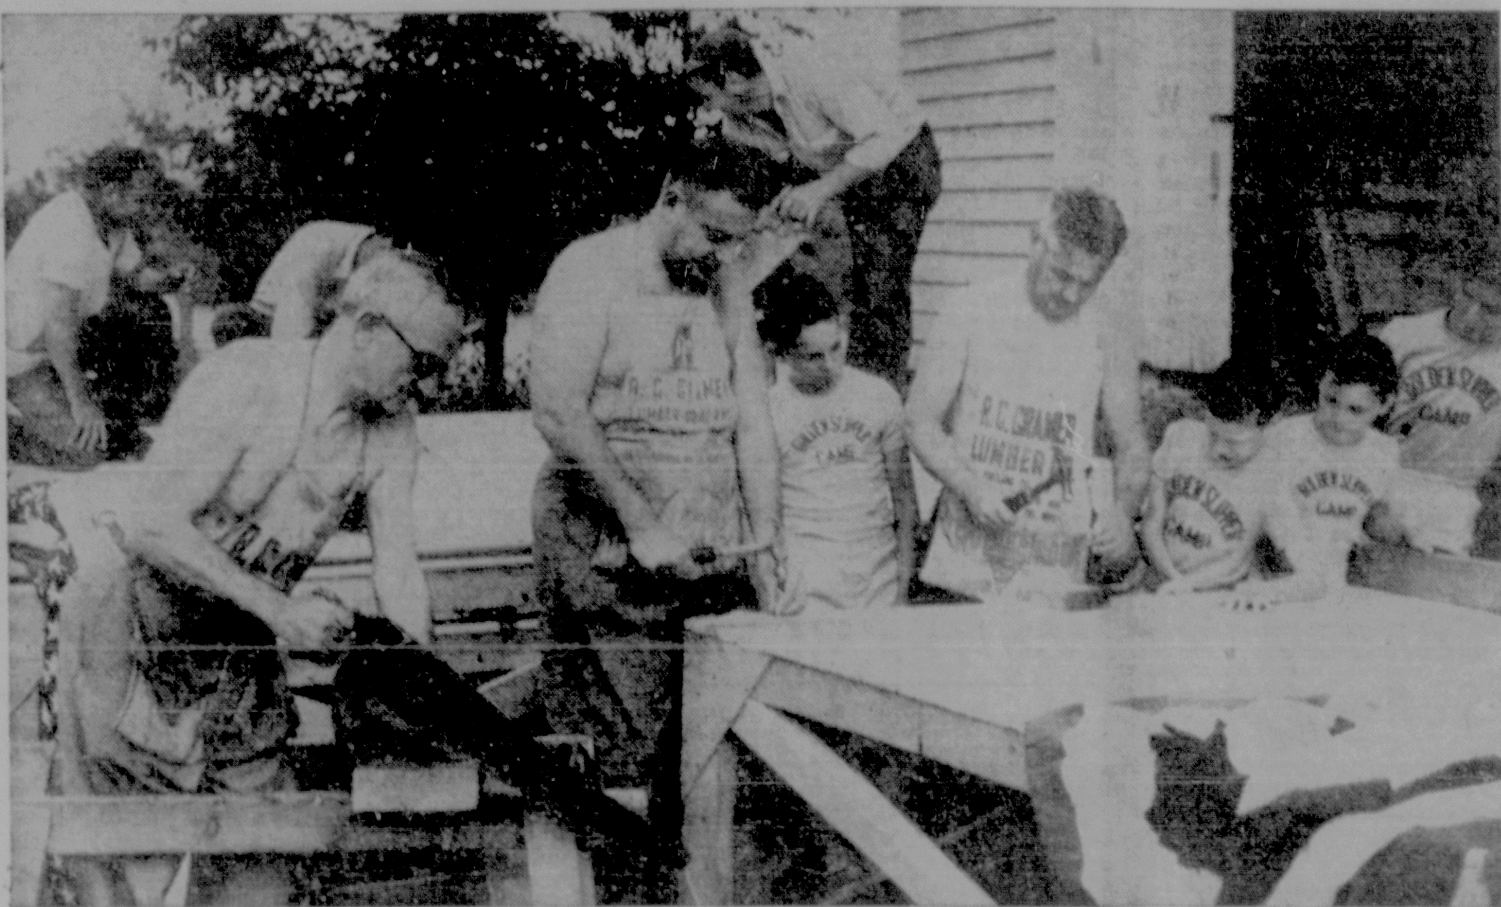

"Two—The North Korean Communists must be disarmed.

"Three—The United Nations must agree to prevent any third power from giving assistance to the North Korean Communists.

"Four—The official representatives of the Republic of Korea shall participate in any international conference on the Korean problem.

"No plan or program or course of action will be considered as having any legal effect which may conflict with the administrative sovereignty or territorial integrity of Korea."

Armored Unit To Keep Reds Out Of Europe

Bremerhaven, Germany (AP)—Advanced troops of the "Hell on Wheels" Armored Division landed here from the United States yesterday "to keep the Russians out of Western Europe."

That's the way Maj. Gen. William B. Palmer described the mission of his famed Second Armored Division as 1,100 soldiers walked down the gangplank of the Navy transport General Gallan. Other transports are carrying the rest of the Second's 15,000 men across the Atlantic.

The commander said his group is going to train to Camp Y-79, near Mannheim, for processing. The forward troops took 15 days to get here from New Orleans.

"This division was sent over here to keep the Russians out of Western Europe and we aim to do it," Palmer said.

The armored division follows the Fourth Infantry Division into Germany under the U.S. plan to build American fighting strength in Europe to six divisions.

Two more U.S. divisions—the 28th and 43rd—will follow the Second Armored later this year. Combined with other Allied forces, the West will have more than 14 divisions in Germany before 1952.

Ohio Concern Bids $816,340 For Supplying Depot Steel

Tolhanna—Mount Vernon Bridge Co., Mount Vernon, O., is the apparent low bidder with a bid price of $816,340 for supplying approximately 4,900 short tons of structural steel for warehouse superstructure at the $30,000,000 Signal Corps depot here.

Judge Bows To Ruling, Frees Reds

New York (AP)—Bowling to a higher court, Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, yesterday ordered 15 second-string Communist leaders freed on bond.

He reinstated $176,000 bail posted by the Civil Rights Congress. Ryan revoked the bonds Wednesday and outlawed the congress as a future bondsmen in his court. The 15 were locked up in Federal detention cells.

Appeals Judge Learned Hand reversed Judge Ryan on Thursday but the Reds remained in jail overnight to await Judge Ryan's decision.

"Judge Hand has ruled," Ryan said. "I have nothing but the most wholesome respect for Judge Hand and this court will obey his ruling. What he says is the law is, to me, the law. Besides I have a personal affection for Judge Hand."

The decision wrecked any immediate government hopes to dam-

The Technical Information bureau of the Army Corps of Engineers, Philadelphia District, disclosed that an addendum had been forwarded to prospective bidders providing for curtailment of original bid specifications from about 11,000 short tons to 4,900.

The curtailment of the steel at the present time, the technical information office said, is no indication that the project itself is to be curtailed.

Barthold Chosen C. D. Director

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday appointed William G. Barthold, of Bethlehem, civil defense director for Northampton county.

The seemingly endless flow of bail money from the Civil Rights Congress to the Communist party.

The congress, itself, has been called Communist and subversive by the attorney general.

Judge Hand said the full three-man appeals court, in a previous decision, held Civil Rights Congress bail money acceptable.

House Unit Votes Global Air Program

Washington (AP)—A secret billion dollar Air Force building project in Europe and areas running Russia was approved yesterday by the House Armed Services committee.

New and expanded American air bases are included in the project.

In other moves to force a mighty global ring of American air bases against any Soviet aggression:

One—The State department said Saudi Arabia has agreed to let U.S. bomber and fighter planes use strategic Dhahran airfield for the next five years. The big Middle-East base is only about 1,500 miles from Russian territory.

Two—The House Armed Services committee tentatively approved $37,686,000 in construction at eight bases in the Alaskan area and Puerto Rico and six within the United States.

Three—Senator Lodge (R-Mass) proposed that the U.S. speedily build a 150-group Air Force, the mightiest in the world, to avoid the risk of "national disaster."

The Air Force said Thursday it is rushing the construction of a system of North Atlantic bases.

The Armed Services committee action was part of its item-by-item consideration of a $6,561,262,000 world-wide military construction program. The committee approved the sending of $1,071,638,000 for the secret Air Force construction.

Sen. Martin To Speak At Dedication

Bartonsville—U. S. Sen. Edward Martin will deliver the principal address at the dedication of the 700-acre Golden Slipper Square Club camp here Sunday at 2 p. m.

Invited to the ceremonies and also scheduled to speak are U. S. Sen. James H. Duff; Rep. Francis E. Walter, 20th district; State Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe.

The camp has been in operation three years, providing free three-week vacations for Philadelphia youngsters who otherwise never leave the city. There are no barriers of race or creed. Three encampments of 110 children each are provided currently.

The camp was erected at a cost of $500,000 and is an outgrowth of the Golden Slipper Square Club, a 29-year-old Philadelphia social organization.

A huge motorcade of some 1,000 persons will leave the 4400 block of N. Broad St. at 9 a. m. Sunday, to make the trip to the camp in the Poconos, according to Jack Shlifer, camp president.

An escort of city motorcycle policemen will accompany the caravan as far as City Line Ave., at which point State police will lead the way on the 85-mile pilgrimage to the camp site.

Dr. Kurt Peiser, vice president of the University of Pennsylvania, will be chairman of the day. Peiser is a former executive head of the Federation of Jewish Charities, and the Allied Jewish Appeal of Philadelphia.

Miss Frances N. Harrison, Philadelphia executive director of the Federation of Jewish Charities, and Louis E. Evans, of the Community Chest, will speak at the ceremonies.

Also in the cavalcade will be many prominent Philadelphians, including Leonard A. Levine, president of the Golden Slipper Square Club, other members of the Masonic order, and their friends. The 110 youngsters, presently in the first encampment of the season, will observe the ceremonies at the camp.

New Rifle Club Seeks Matches

A Stroudsburg rifle club has been formed and is looking for matches with other organizations.

Forest Mervine Jr., organizer, said the club will compete in small bore and large bore shooting. It is planning also to include pistol and clay bridge shooting so that it may enter tournaments in the near future.

Any organization looking for matches should call Stroudsburg 1103-W.

H. A. Hilliard Dies After Long Illness

Howard A. Hilliard, 77, of rear 505 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, died at 4:20 a. m. yesterday in General hospital. Mr. Hilliard had been in ill health for nearly four years.

Recently, he fell and suffered a fractured hip. He expired while hospitalized for this injury.

He and Mrs. Hilliard had celebrated their 51st anniversary. A native of Monroe county, Mr. Hilliard had lived in this community all his life. He was a member of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church and Victoria Council, No. 165, Daughters of America.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ida Singer Hilliard; two sons, Fred and Chester Hilliard, East Stroudsburg; grandson, Richard C. Hilliard, a seaman recruit at Bainbridge, Md.; brother Ernest Hilliard, Stroudsburg and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. in Lanterman funeral home. Rev. Frank H. Blatt, Zion Reformed pastor, will officiate. Interment will be made in St. Paul's cemetery, East Stroudsburg. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Boy Injured When Bicycle Runs Into Car

Douglas Shook, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shook, 850 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle yesterday at 11:30 a. m. on Route 90, a quarter of a mile north of Stroudsburg.

He was taken to a doctor where he received treatment for contusions of the left hip, ankle and right elbow. After receiving treatment, he was pronounced all right and sent home according to an investigation of the accident conducted by State police of Stroudsburg.

The car, which was operated by Frank DeRosa, 606 Fulmer Ave., Stroudsburg, received a dent in the right fender and right door. Damage was estimated at $45.

Shook and his brother were riding north when his brother, who was ahead of him, turned and saw a car coming in the same direction. Giving a warning, Douglas' brother turned his bicycle to the right. Douglas, however, turned left into the path of the car, a 1951 coupe.

Two Committed To County Jail

Bernard L. Mooney, address not listed, was committed to the Monroe county jail last night by Cpl. Carson F. Overgard, of the Mount Pocono substation of State police. Mooney was charged with drunken driving.

William Melvin, of Mountain road, Delaware Water Gap, was committed by Chief of Police Fred Decker, of that borough, on a charge of indecent exposure. He will be given a hearing later before Justice of the Peace J. T. Hauser.

PRIMARY ELECTION — JULY 24, 1951

1951 Ambassadors

Looking forward to Pennsylvania Week of 1951, to be observed this autumn as it has been for the past several years, the Commonwealth has asked Chambers of Commerce throughout the state to nominate former residents of Pennsylvania for the ambassador awards.

Some of the most distinguished men and women in the United States are natives of our commonwealth, and it is fitting and proper that they be honored by selection as ambassadors and return to Pennsylvania in October to receive the accolade.

In virtually every category of achievement there are to be found Pennsylvanians who have gone forth to prove their worth, and it is a matter of pride for all of us to honor them as they come back home to hear the plaudits of their old friends and neighbors.

Chance for Duff

As a freshman senator, James H. Duff has stuck with tradition by maintaining a silence for which he was never noted as the robust Governor of Pennsylvania.

Now, it seems, that Senator Duff may have the chance to get in a few licks even though he is a newcomer to Washington.

He has been appointed to a special 13-man Senate committee which has the big and important job of "protection of consumers' interests." There are only two other first-year Senators in the group.

Ordinarily, we never run a fever over the appointment of special committees and commissions to do this and do that. But this group certainly has its work cut out for it.

The flabby efforts of Congress and the Administration to control runaway prices prove that it is past time for some official group to show some concern for those that foot the bills.

Mr. Duff got pretty much what he wanted in Harrisburg. While Governor he also often expressed concern for what he called the "little guys." Here's hoping he can work some of the same savvy in Washington.

Heavier Truck Loads

One of the most highly controversial bills of the present session on the Hill, that increasing load limits for certain categories of trucks from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds, has passed the Senate by a vote splitting party lines.

That it will remain controversial seems to be apparent, for those who argued against its passage claim that it will affect only 5 per cent of all truckers, while those supporting the measure declare it to be only recognition of a new type of vehicle, with tandem axles.

The motoring public, which is the only source of highway building funds, will watch with considerable interest the effect of the increased weights, assuming the bill will receive the Governor's approval. Only time will tell whether the greater weights will prove ruinously expensive or will not effect the maintenance of State highways.

Brave Woman

For six years an attractive beautyshop operator in Washington led a double life.

She played the role of a Communist, and told the FBI what she saw and heard. Dangerous work. And not the kind designed to make friends with loyal American neighbors and acquaintances.

But necessary and immensely valuable work. Like Matt Cvetic, George Deitz and others now known as FBI agents, Mrs. Mary Stalleup Markward performed her ticklish job as a patriotic service.

The first railroad sleeping car was put into operation by the Cumberland Valley railroad in 1836.

Try And Stop Me

The Colonel warned his old Negro cook, "Don't you go serving me any wild fowl for my Christmas dinner, Sam. I want a succulent, domestic, corn-fed bird." Christmas dinner duly was served, and the Colonel bit into his portion of turkey. "Blast you, Sam," he cried. "Didn't I tell you I demanded a domestic bird?"

"Yassuh," maintained Sam, "and dat am it." "Domestic, boy?" thundered the colonel. "Then what about all this buckshot I'm finding in it?"

Sam wiped the back of his neck with an old bandana and confessed, "Colonel, dat dere buckshot, ah expect, was meant for me."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — William Holden says adult movie audiences have been "double crossed" by popcorn smells, V-neck ads, saggie seats, discourteous attendants, and unclean theatres.

What's more, the star declares, producers should quit catering to bobby-soxers and go after the grown-ups.

In "Boots Malone," now shooting, Holden is a jockey-trainer hero-worshiped by a 14-year-old boy. There's no leading lady. Won't the lack of love scenes, I asked Bill, disappoint the bobby-soxers in the balcony?

"I don't care about the bobby-soxers," Holden said. "We've made a mistake in this business of catering to them. We need to get the adult audience back."

"Older audiences have been double crossed by popcorn bags and poor conditions. I defy you to have greasy popcorn in a theatre very long without having the whole place smell like rancid butter."

"The general service of a theatre can be a little better. Everything from the courtesy of people managing the theatre to cleanliness. Some theatres have seats that sag and are uncomfortable. And there's this thing of being roped off."

A bystander told of attending a theatre where ropes herded incoming patrons clear across the lobby so they'd have to pass the candy counter.

The criticisms don't apply to all theatres, Bill said. "Some have improved."

"One thing Ronnie and I disagree with," Holden began. "I'm president of the Screen Actors Guild—this way they advertise and sell pictures."

"If I'm an adult picture, I would know I'm going to see an adult picture—but no. They advertise it with V necks and the same old tripe: 'She was dangerous to live with' and so on."

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

The Administration has either wilfully or by necessity, in the Korean episode, chosen to clear-pass the provisions of the Constitution which give to Congress the responsibility for making war. The device was to call that war a "police action" by the United Nations, the United States, however, providing 90 percent of the military strength and 100 percent of the provisions.

Similarly, the Constitution was by-passed at Teheran and Yalta, the decisions reached at those conferences not being concluded in treaties and therefore never being referred to the Senate for ratification as the Constitution clearly provides.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture — Genesis 27:6-20; Luke 10:38-42; I Corinthians 13:4-7.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
Juvenile delinquency is increasing in our land, law authorities say, and indeed, we are led to think so when we read the daily newspapers. These same authorities tell us that one of the greatest causes of juvenile crime is broken homes. Divorces are increasing with the growth of child delinquency.

When we sing the old song, "There's no place like home," most of us think of our own homes where love reigned; where differences between parents or among children were settled with renewed love and understanding — homes that we leave if we marry or business calls us to far places, with nostalgia and dream of with longing.

How many thousands of young people have no such beautiful recollections of their homes. Quarrels, misunderstandings, accusations, vengeful feelings spitefully expressed are the things they remember and, finally, may be a mother or a father going to live elsewhere and only the one parent to take the place of the two who brought them into the world.

Children do so need both parents to help them get a right start in life. School teachers do their best; Sunday school teachers try to guide young people in the paths of righteousness—but a happy home means more than anything else in the world. It gives a feeling of security. It's a place where the youngsters bring their joys and their griefs, and mother and father help them to understand life and teach them how to make it beautiful.

Today's lesson gives us a glimpse into a home of olden time, which once was a happy one, but decent, lying and underhand dealing destroyed its harmony. Isaac and Rebekah were a happy couple, but they grieved because they had no children. Then God gave them twin sons, Esau and Jacob. Esau came into the world first, so was heir to his father's blessing. Jacob came after and, unfortunately, Isaac favored Esau best and Rebekah loved Jacob instead of both parents loving both sons equally.

Isaac grew old; his sight failed, and he was sure that death was near. He called Esau to him, told him to take his bow and quiver and shoot some venison, for he loved savory meat. After that Isaac would give this son his blessing.

Rebekah heard what her husband said to Esau, so she quickly killed a kid from the flock of goats and bring it to her and she would cook it, and he could take it to his father and get the blessing.

Jacob said his father would know he was not Esau, because he could not see him, although Esau's arms were hairy and his were smooth. So the mother had Jacob put on Esau's clothes, and she covered his arms with the skin of the goats, and gave him the meat to take to his father.

Blind though he was Isaac knew Jacob's voice, and also asked how he had been able to bring the meat so quickly. Then Jacob told the worst lie of all; he said God had been with him to help him.

Isaac felt of Jacob's arms, and thought it was Esau because they were hairy, so he gave the younger son his blessing. You can imagine how Esau felt when he knew what his mother and Jacob had done.

How could that home ever be a place of happiness after that—with two such cheats and liars in the house? As a matter of fact, Jacob was compelled to leave home, so Rebekah, for her sins, lost the companionship of the son she loved.

What was Jesus' attitude on divorce?—the Pharisees wanted to know, hoping He would say something by which they could trap Him. Jesus answered that God had made man and woman, and a man should leave his father and mother to take a wife, and then they "shall be one flesh."

"What God hath joined together," Christ said, "let not man put asunder." But he did say that if Congress cannot do anything about this, particularly as any changes in the Teheran and Yalta agreements can only lead to war. But the time has come to call a halt to unconstitutional procedures.

The founding fathers, with rare wisdom, rejected the concept of secret diplomacy, recognizing that the best-intentioned men often move into queer mazes in the despatches of partisan politics. Therefore, they provide that although the President conducts the foreign policy of the United States, he must, constitutionally, in time place the entire matter before the Senate for ratification, of course, if the Senate waves its constitutional authority and integrity, nothing can be done about it. The bi-partisan foreign policy, product of the thinking of Senator Vandenberg, John Foster Dulles, Thomas E. Dewey, Gen. George

Marshall and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, weakened the authority of the Senate by removing the minority party from knowledge of and opposition to national policies.

The danger in this method is that the people have no way of knowing what they are pledged to until it is too late to do anything about it. The Korean war, which has been our first military defeat, is a case in point. What would have happened on June 25, 1950, if Congress were called in session to pass a joint resolution declaring war? It is even possible that they might not have done it or that they would have demanded information now available but then not known even to high officials of the government.

For instance, had Congress known then that Dean Acheson had committed the United States to Great Britain to recognize Soviet China—would Congress have risked this war?

Yet, the responsibility for war rests strictly upon Congress and the responsibility for a treaty between the United States and a new government involving recognition, peace, amity, trade must be ratified by the Senate.

The issue can no longer be whether the bi-partisan foreign policy is sound or not; it is whether the constitution functions or not. And that question ought not to be ignored by members of Congress, particularly of the Senate, if that body is to be respected by the American people. Its responsibilities are clear and cannot be dodged. If it retreats from those responsibilities and permits an unconstitutional procedure in the field of foreign relations, the Senate is in default and Americans must then ponder the effectiveness of constitutional provisions.

No newspapers, to my knowledge, has ever "torn down reputations."

The newspaper REPORTS reputations that HAVE BEEN torn down by their owners.

And even then it reports them only if the destruction and its effects are of PUBLIC INTEREST. The President of the United States and all other elected and appointed government employees are PAID by you and me.

As employers, we have a right to watch our employees to criticize their services when they are bad, to fire them when they have become hopeless.

The average business man or employee pays for his room and board out of his own pocket.

The government employee — no matter how high or low his status — who is furnished free lodgings, free food, free transportation, free entertainment is NOT a free agent.

He is responsible to those who have hired him, who pay him, who are benefited or harmed by him, for his actions twenty-four hours of each day.

Mr. Truman has often resented criticism.

I have never heard of him resenting praise.

For instance, I am sure he will not resent it when I say here that his daughter Margaret on her end, the trip through Europe has been an exemplar of good behavior, good manners and dignity.

Her father and our whole nation may well be proud of her.

Concert At Shawnee Wins High Acclaim

Shawnee — Worthington Hall was filled to capacity last night by an enthusiastic audience which applauded the songs of Leonard Kravendok, baritone, and the music of Virginia Livingston Gearhart, duo-pianists, to the echo.

Wallace Hornbrook was accompanist. All are members of the Waring organization, and the concert was for the benefit of the choir of the Shawnee Presbyterian church. The proceeds will be used to purchase choir robes in preparation for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the church next year.

The program opened with two piano numbers: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach; and "Rondo for Two Pianos," Chopin, by the Gearharts.

Kravendok's first group of songs included "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," Melish; "I Heard a Forest Praying," Peter DeRose; "Steal Away," and "The Lord Is My Light," Allister with Wallace Hornbrook as accompanist.

A different mood was evoked by the Gearharts in "Can-can," Offenbach; "Stardust," Carmichael; and "I Got Rhythm," Gershwin.

The final group of songs by Kravendok included Verdi's "Eri-Tu"; Youmans' "Through the Years"; J. Wolfe's "Salor Men"; and Squire's "A Chip Off The Old Block."

The program closed by duo-piano numbers, "Prelude in G Minor," Rachmaninoff; "The Flight of the Bumble Bee," Rimski-Korsakoff; and "Blue Danube Waltzes," by Strauss, Schulz, Eyer and Chasins.

The artists were generous in their encore numbers, and Mrs. Livingston was presented with a bouquet of red roses, and the men with small gifts of appreciation. Judy Cramer made the presentation.

The older girls of the Junior choir served as ushers and assisted in decorating the stage. They were: Jean Copenhaver, Audrey Treible, Grace Treible, Pat Burnley, Carol Burnley, Carole Cramer, Judy Cramer, Sally Christenberry, Dolores Rinker and Nina Burnley.

Sally Ann Rayburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rayburn of Bryant St., with Susan Harmon and Kay Shook are spending three weeks with Sally's brother-in-law and sister, Sgt. and Mrs. Russell T. Miller Jr., at Fayetteville, North Carolina, where Sgt. Miller is now stationed.

Johnny and Mary Jane Gilpin got their first look at the Atlantic Ocean this week when they spent the day at Asbury Park with their grandmother, Mrs. John Gregory, their mother, Mrs. Donald Gilpin, and their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones and son, Brian, of Bangor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kirkhuff Stroudsburg, have returned from a visit with friends in Perth Amboy, N. J. During their week's vacation they spent some time at the shore and also went to New York City.

Mrs. Ralph M. Schaumann, of Newark, N. J. is spending the weekend with her nephew, Horace R. Westbrook, and his family, Brown St., East Stroudsburg.

Candidates Guests Of Democrats

The Women's Democratic Club of Monroe County held its July meeting at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Shiffer, Stroud Township, near Bartonsville, Wednesday night, July 11, with the members and their friends enjoying a pot-luck supper.

Miss Edith Young, vice president, presided. County Chairman Granville Shiffer presented the following candidates who spoke briefly: George Schiek, candidate for commissioner; Willard Quick, candidate for commissioner; Jake Altemose, candidate for sheriff; Floyd Butz, candidate for registrar and recorder for his second term; Claude Metzgar, candidate for Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts.

Other speakers were Forrest Smith, mayor of Delaware Water Gap; Wayne Posten, Mrs. W. A. Rogalinski, secretary and treasurer of the County Committee, and William J. Hamblin, the oldest active Democrat present.

In the absence of the scheduled speaker, District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen, John Kunkle, former superintendent of schools, addressed the group and told many incidents of how campaigns were carried on in the good old horse and buggy days. He urged the Democrats to keep a united front and urged them to work with the Democratic spirit and they could not fail to attain an ultimate victory.

A social time was enjoyed including swimming. Hostesses for the supper were

Betty Jean Mackes Bride Of Lester Marsh At Mt. Eaton

Miss Betty Jean Mackes, daughter of Charles Mackes and the late Mrs. Mackes, of Saylorsburg, became the bride of Lester W. Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marsh, of Stroudsburg RD 3, in the Mount Eaton church, Saylorsburg, on Saturday, July 7, at 4 p. m.

Rev. Russell J. Cairns, pastor of the Pentecostal church, Stroudsburg, performed the ceremony before the altar which had been decorated with bouquets of white flowers. The window sills had been banked with laurel, and white bows marked the end of each pew.

Mrs. Frank Shick was organist and Mrs. Elva Knowles, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly," and "Because" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the wedding prayer.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace-trimmed marquisette over white slipper satin with a fitted bodice and illusion yoke bordered with lace. The gown had long pointed sleeves, and a long train which was also bordered with lace. Her veil of illusion net, trimmed with lace, fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible with an orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Her sister, Miss Dorothy Mackes, of Saylorsburg, was maid of honor, and wore a gown of green marquisette trimmed with lace and a gathered bonnet of matching marquisette.

The three bridesmaids also wore gowns of marquisette over taffeta with the lace-trimmed collars gathered into scallops by tiny sprigs of rosebuds. They wore pearl-trimmed halos and matching mitts, and carried colonial bouquets of summer flowers tied with ribbons to match their gowns.

Miss Frances Dorshimer, of Brodheads, was in yellow marquisette; Miss Gloria Greenamoyer, of Saylorsburg, wore blue marquisette; and Beatrice Miller, sister of the bridegroom, was in pink marquisette.

The flower girl, Bonita Ann Post, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with lace, with a long full skirt caught up by ribbon bows. Charles Schuler Jr., was ring-bearer and wore a white suit.

Daniel Miller of Stroudsburg was best man, and Edwin Swink and Douglas Reimel, of Stroudsburg and Ray Mackes, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue printed dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Saylorsburg fire hall for about 125 guests. The hall had been decorated with bows in pastel colors which repeated the gowns of the bridesmaids. A tiered wedding cake formed the centerpiece for the bride's table.

For traveling the bride wore a gray print dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. They have now returned from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Lake Erie, and Akron, Ohio. They are at home to their friends in their newly-furnished house in Selts.

The bride is a graduate of Chestnut Hill High school and is employed at Art Metal Co. Mr. Marsh attended Stroudsburg High school and is employed at Trumatic Co., East Stroudsburg.

Supper Postponed

The Miaph Bible class of the Baptist church, which had planned a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Harry Hinton on Thursday night postponed it because of the afternoon showers, and instead will hold it on Thursday, July 19, at the same place.

Local Churchwomen Attend WSCS Institute At Plateau

Outstanding speakers on many phases of work in which the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church is active, spoke on Thursday when a large group of the Stroudsburg WSCS spent the day at Pocono Plateau.

They joined the delegates from many Women's Societies of the Philadelphia Conference now spending the week at the camp there. Miss Catherine Wolverton and Mrs. William Davis are spending the week at the institute.

The special pilgrimage on Thursday heard Mrs. M. E. Pilly, of Georgia, prominent there in church and political life, lead a study of the Book of Acts.

The group then divided, some to hear Dr. Edna M. Baxter speak on "The Rural Church" and others to hear Mrs. William J. Heydrick, of Philadelphia, whose topic was "The Family."

They united for the dinner meeting when Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, who has traveled widely in the interest of missions, spoke on Latin America and countries he has visited in South America. These talks were all part of the regular camp program.

However, the local women also had special speakers. During the camp rest period, Miss Frances Fulton, recently evacuated from China where she was serving as a missionary, gave a hopeful talk on the future of the Christian church in China.

Mrs. D. C. Warlow, dean of the Pocono Institute, also spoke to them on birds.

The group had taken a lunch which they ate out-of-doors, and they joined the campers for dinner in the dining hall.

Stroudsburg women who registered for the full day included Mrs. Jennie Robertson, Miss Florence Leorn, Miss Grace Dreher, Betty Wilson, Mrs. Mary Snyder, Mrs. Florence LaBar, Mrs. Florence Dreher, Mrs. Kathryn Franz, Mrs. Lella Stackhouse, Mrs. Rhoda Wagner, Mrs. Katherine Stiff, Mrs. Ora Levering, Mrs. Sarah Pipher, Mrs. Roberta Forthman, Mrs. Gertrude Welsh, Mrs. Emma Dreher, Mrs. Grace Walters, Miss Jessie Wagner, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Enos Slocum, and son, John, of Scranton; Mrs. Louise Abbot, of Scranton; Mrs. Clara Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Flanagan and Clair of Madison, N. J.; Mrs. Agnes W. Price, Johnny Price, of Tobyhanna; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oyer, Frank Jr., and Sharon of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Jennie Singer, Mrs. Carl Singer, of Stroudsburg and Mrs. Carl Amelang of Easton.

Those present included Charles Wagner, of Canadensis; Mrs. John M. Wagner, of Scranton; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beemer and Jan, of Clarks Summit; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weber, and Ira, Nancy and Roberta Weber, of Buttonwood; Dr. and Mrs. John M. Wagner and Mary and Cindy Wagner, of Clarks Summit; a friend, Miss Barbara Connelly, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Emma Walters; Miss Jessie Wagner, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Enos Slocum, and son, John, of Scranton; Mrs. Louise Abbot, of Scranton; Mrs. Clara Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Flanagan and Clair of Madison, N. J.; Mrs. Agnes W. Price, John Price, Mr. and Mrs. George Price, William and Patty Price, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Price, Nancy and Jerry Price, of Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lyman N. Price, Johnny Price, of Tobyhanna; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oyer, Frank Jr., and Sharon of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Jennie Singer, Mrs. Carl Singer, of Stroudsburg and Mrs. Carl Amelang of Easton.

Joining them during the afternoon were Mrs. Paul Shiffer, Mrs. Ellen Hildebrandt, Mrs. Elsie Altemose and Mrs. Beulah Stackhouse.

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Stroudsburg church was represented by three members of the sessions.

Friendly Society Has Supper At Lake Manzanedo

The Friendly Society of the Zion Reformed church met on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Earl Bird, Lake Manzanedo, where they held a supper meeting in the grove. A birthday cake for Mrs. Lida Gregory was dedicated with song.

Those present included Rev. and Mrs. Frank H. Blatt, Mrs. Lida Gregory, Mrs. Ann Zuechi and her niece from Wilkes-Barre, Mrs. Dorothy Lim, Mrs. Addie Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kirkhuff, Mrs. Laura Stout and daughter, Donna, Charles Detrick, Elizabeth Van Vleet, Mrs. Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bird and their niece and her children.

David LaBar Is Honored On 70th Birthday

Analomink — David LaBar, one of the oldest residents of the Wooddale section, was honored last night at a birthday party and dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bennett. Guests were the boys of the Bear Hollow Camp, Wooddale and the girls of Sky Hill camp.

Mr. LaBar was presented with a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Kinsey Halterman, and colored moving pictures were shown which included Mr. LaBar on his 69th birthday last year, and the boys of Bear Hollow camp on a hayride.

Class Supper

The Westwood class of the Stroudsburg Methodist church held a picnic supper meeting on Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fehnel, 806 White St.

There were 18 members present for the supper, which was

Women Of Aux. To Work At Fireman's Carnival

Mount Pocono — Twenty-two members attended the July meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Pocono Mt. Fire Co., held at the fire hall on Tuesday night, at which time plans were completed on arrangements for the concessions the Auxiliary will be in charge of, at the annual carnival, July 23 to 28.

The general chairman of the food concession are: Mrs. Ray Simmons, Mrs. Martin Goldberg, Mrs. David Bisbing and Mrs. William Hines; chairman of soft drinks will be Mrs. A. Salerni and of ice cream and candy, Mrs. Clair Hartman. The purchasing committee includes: Mrs. Gerald Possinger, Mrs. Earl Brock and Mrs. Simmons.

Mrs. Ray Simmons presided during the business session and announced that the meals to be served to the firemen while the carnival stands are being erected and dismantled will be in charge of the following: Saturday, July 21, Mrs. O. W. Megargel Jr.; Sunday, July 22, Mrs. Martin Goldberg; Sunday, July 23, Mrs. Gerald Possinger. These chairmen will be assisted by other members of the group.

The hostess committee for the August 14 meeting was also appointed and will include: Mrs. William Hines, Mrs. George Hensler, Mrs. Burt Horn and Mrs. James Horne.

During the meeting an article on civilian defense was read by Mrs. O. W. Megargel Jr., entitled "We Are Now In Training." The group was unable to undertake the project in the interest of Civilian Defense which was anticipated so in order to keep members alerted to this worthy cause, articles of this regard are presented at the meetings.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Martin Goldberg and her committee.

Young Artists In Recital At Stroud House

Nine young musicians delighted the audience which gathered at the Stroud Community House on Thursday night for the recital by the piano and violin pupils of Frederic V. Sittig and Margaret Sittig.

The program opened with an ensemble composed of Carol Leitner, Ada Catherine Zugel, Martin Fred, Jennene Zugel, and Fred Mursch who played excerpts from Strauss' "The Blue Danube" and Liszt's "Liebestraum."

Donald Caulfield presented three violin solos, "Holy, Holy, Holy," "Old Folks at Home" and "Waltz" by Preston while Harry Caulfield's piano solos included Chopin's Prelude in C Minor and the first movement of Mozart's "Sonata in C major."

Judy Kohn's piano solos included two by Bach, "Solfege," "Etude" and "Bourree," and "Sonatina in C major." Clementi, Carol Leitner played as a violin solo, "Air Varie" by Dancia; and Margie Shull's piano solo was German Dance, No. 1, by Beethoven.

Fred Mursch had two Grieg piano solos, "Puck" and "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen; while Ada Catherine Zugel's violin solo, was "Cavatina," by Raff.

Jennene Zugel played as piano solos, "Etude in C Minor," by Chopin; and "Witches Dance," by MacDowell. Martin Mery gave the final violin number the first movement from Bruch's "Concerto in E Minor."

The ensemble played Mozart's Sonata in E Minor, and Bach's Concerto for two violins.

The Campus Bushkill, Pa. July 14, 1951

Good Morning to you: My object in writing this—shall we say—open letter is to draw your attention to our new and beautiful ballroom at The Campus, Bushkill, situated on Route 209—12 miles north of Stroudsburg, towards Milford, Pa.

I am proud of the Campus Ballroom because I believe it to be one of the finest in the Poconos and with its priceless collection of oil paintings—by Joseph Boston, N. A., all of which have hung in the National Academy, provides a most suitable frame in which to present good entertainment.

For your dancing pleasure we have Joe Venuto, Master of Vibraharp, and his well known Long Island Orchestra, and I want to tell you that in my 30 years experience of show business I have yet to hear a better young orchestra.

They are all musicians to their finger tips and in the not too distant future will be one of the nations top orchestras. In order that you may hear them and judge for yourselves, we are presenting them over Station WYPO at 1:15 to 1:30 P. M. today, Saturday, and I believe you will really miss a musical treat if you don't tune in at that time.

For your entertainment we have Miss Birdie Winters, Broadway's Little Miss Dynamite, singer of songs, old and new, with that master of the piano, Harold Norman, accompanying her.

I want to cordially invite you to visit the Campus Ballroom when you have a free evening and see and hear what we have to offer you. Entertainment starts at 9:00 p. m. daily, except Sundays, and I believe you will find that we have good beverages and food to offer at reasonable prices.

Genially yours HAROLD AUTEN —Adv.

Two Wounded In Attempted Bank Holdup

Buffalo, N. Y., (AP) — A Pennsylvania man, forced to drive a pair of alleged gunmen away from what police described as an attempted bank holdup, was critically wounded yesterday when hit by two police bullets.

One of the men accidentally shot his companion a few moments earlier while they were in the bank, police said.

Norman Drum, 39, of Emporium, Pa., an electrical contractor working in Buffalo, was wounded when police halted his station wagon just north of the city. Attending physicians said the bullets apparently pierced both lungs.

Theodore N. Sikora, 37, was shot in the back when he and his companion, both armed, entered a branch of the Marine Trust Co. in what police called a holdup that backfired. He was reported in fair condition.

Sikora and Joseph Palame, 41,

JOHN LODER (above), Hollywood and Broadway star, will appear in the leading role of "The Second Threshold" at the Pocono playhouse, Mountainhome, next week.

Clinic Sues Network For $12,000,000

New York, (AP) — A $12,000,000 damage action against the American Broadcasting Co. was filed in Federal court yesterday by Spears Free Clinic and Hospital for Poor Children of Denver, Colo.

The plaintiff said that Walter Winchell broadcast over the network on May 27 parts of an allegedly libelous article entitled "cancer quacks" that appeared in Collier's magazine of May 26.

The complaint said the article contained references to Leo Spears, secretary and director of the hospital, and to "flamboyant advertising" of relief of certain types of cancer.

The suit asks $10,000,000 damages plus $2,000,000 punitive damages and costs. It was filed by attorneys Charles Ginsberg and Elmer Levenson.

ABC has not yet entered a reply to the suit.

A similar action has been filed against Collier's.

Dog Found On Train, Traced To Erie Owner

Camp Atterbury, Ind., (AP) — A German shepherd dog named Rex is going back to its owner in Erie, Pa., if it can hitch a ride.

A Camp Atterbury soldier, Pfc. Allen J. Lott of Ridge-wood, N. J., found Rex doing on a seat in an Indianapolis-bound train five weeks ago. The dog's owner, Nick Mazzone of Erie, was found through tracing a collar tag.

Camp officials and Lott said yesterday Mazzone doesn't know how Rex got on the train. They hope to hitch a ride for the dog with some eastbound motorist.

Johnson Plea May Be Heard In December

Washington, (AP) — A Justice department attorney said yesterday the U. S. Court of Claims may not hear final arguments until December on the plea by former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, 78, for back pay and full salary for life.

Johnson resigned as a judge in the Federal court for the Middle district of Pennsylvania in 1945 while the House Judiciary committee was investigating his official conduct.

Johnson at the time relinquished any claim to retirement pay but later he sued for back pay of $24,166 and restoration for life of the $10,000 a year salary he received as a Federal judge. He argued he was "ill mentally and physically" when he relinquished his retirement rights.

Communist Tactics In Korean Negotiations Follow Red Procedure Dating Back To Yalta

By J. M. Roberts Jr., Associated Press News Analyst

The snafu over operational procedure at Kaesong is another case of American assumption that the enemy will respond to elastic and generous tactics.

The exact conditions which were to surround the truce negotiations were not nailed down. As a result, a dispute over details now threatens the really important matters involved.

The same thing happened when Roosevelt and Churchill left the details hanging at Yalta regarding the forms of government desired in what have now become the Soviet satellite states of Eastern Europe. It happened when the military demarcation line was fixed in Germany without detailed agreement about access to the Berlin enclave. It happened when a military line in Korea was left to become a political boundary. It happened at Potsdam regarding operational procedure for postwar Germany. It happened when Stalin agreed to a settlement of the Berlin blockade and the Allied negotiators left the Kremlin without nailing down the details, which were immediately scrambled by the Russian representatives in Berlin.

General Ridgway's message to the enemy commanders in Korea indicates that the matter of press coverage has become a test case in a situation which was already fouled up by assumption that a neutral meeting place meant a disarmed meeting place, with equal freedom of movement and communication for both sides.

With the Communists — and it is hard to see how this lesson could have gone so long unlearned — you can't assume anything. And they will stop in even the most turbulent of midstreams to argue endlessly over any sort of change in what they consider agreed procedure.

The failure of the Washington administration to provide Ridgway with counsel from among its experts in dealing with the Communists already had been the subject of comment among observers before the snafu arose. Dulles, Jessup and others experienced in picking up the nuances of Communist words and deeds have been conspicuously absent from the Korean planning picture.

The United States left Ridgway to deal on a strictly military basis. With the Communists, nothing is strictly military. Military and political pressures are combined in one concerted drive toward their objectives.

What their actual intent may be is not known. They may be dissembling all over the place. But my hunch is that they didn't start this true business just to have it fail over technicalities.

Clubs Plan Campaign For Camp Fund

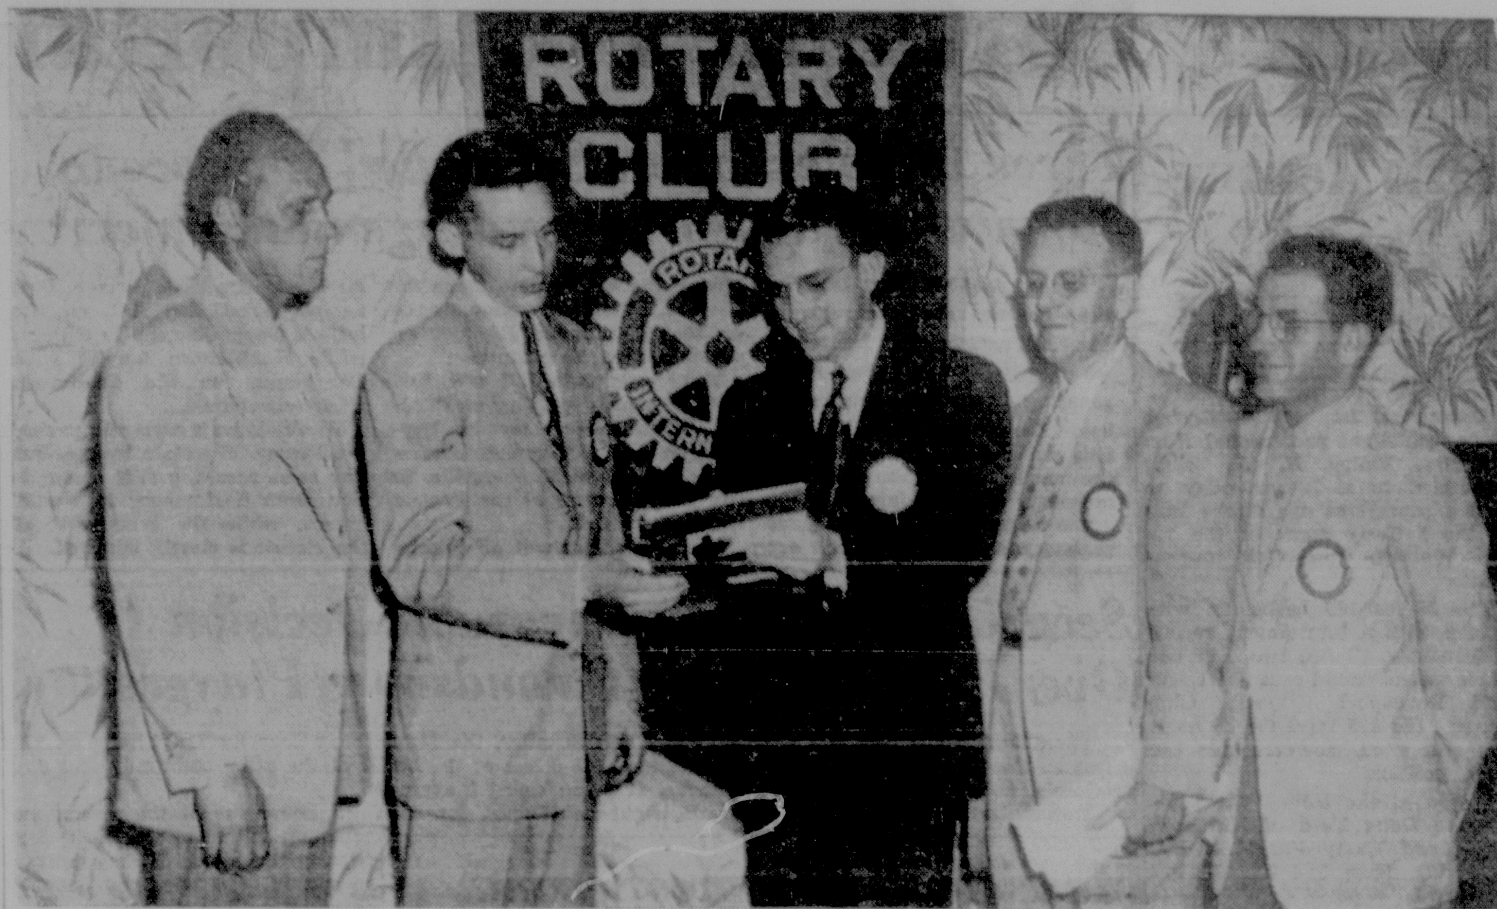

A concentrated weekend drive for Salvation Army camp funds among members of the eight clubs affiliated with the Monroe County Federation of Social & Fraternal Organizations was announced yesterday by Fred Hoffman, president of the federation.

Veterans of Foreign Wars have already prepared for an intensive campaign today among their membership. All other club members, regardless of organization affiliation, are urged to make their gifts today or Sunday to club stewards or mail them to club secretaries.

Loyal Order of Moose turned in $11.50 yesterday for the Salvation Army camp fund, making their total contribution to the project $21.50.

Money is used to finance ten days recreation and training at the Salvation Army camp, Forks, Pa. for underprivileged youngsters of this region.

The project was initiated by the federation, and officers pointed out yesterday the clubs are obligated to meet the quota of monies required to complete the camp fund.

secretary; H. Irwin Shinnen, president; Frank Mitchell, treasurer; Thomas J. Lewis, director. Absent for this picture were Edward C. James, past president, and Alfred Ravelli, vice president.

Two Involved In Car Theft

Saylorsburg — Two Bangor youths are charged with the theft of a car owned by Ruth Frey, Saylorsburg, which took place Tuesday night.

Anthony Denicola, 22, of 84 First St., Bangor, who admitted stealing the car by himself, was arraigned yesterday before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, Stroudsburg, and lodged in the Monroe county jail. His accomplice, a juvenile who did not take part in the actual theft, was turned over to William H. Kinney, Northampton county probation officer. State police of the Brodheadsville substation are the prosecutors in the case.

According to Easton police officers who recovered the car, it was stolen after the owner left the keys in it.

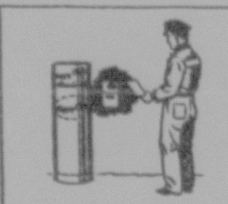

The juvenile, aged 16, was in court last September for collecting $90 for a non-existent baseball project and then spending the money. Both youths, according to Kinney, are under probation.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Golf has been one of the most difficult games ever devised by man down through the years, but Monroe County boasts four fellows who can play the blankie-blank game at night as well or better than most of us can in the daytime. The four gentlemen who have conquered the sport after dark are Cliff Butz, John Erickson, Augie Lockwitch and Bill Rusk, all members of Glen Brook Country Club, with Lockwitch currently defending his club title at the same course.

Erickson and Lockwitch, so the story goes, got the bright idea of playing after the sun had given way to the moon on Thursday night and during the planning stage acquired 25 balls which they covered with luminous paint. Equipped with the shining balls, four flash lights and their regular sets of clubs the golfers departed for Glen Brook's tenth tee at 9:30 p. m. Two and one-half hours after the foursome had completed the back-nine at the local club with astonishing scores.

Lockwitch was one under par after seven holes, but a lost ball on 17 and a bad shot on 18 boosted the smooth playing club champ's score to 40, three strokes over the back-nine par figure of 37. Erickson shot a 43 and Butz and Rusk each came home with a 44. Golf has had this weird flicked during the day for several years, and I can't even imagine playing at night, regardless of the luminous balls and the friendly rays of a flash light. For my money it takes a real golfer to play when the sun is on the opposite side of the earth.

According to the story related to me by Rusk, the flash light and luminous balls served as a sort of cops-and-robbers setup, with the light rays continuously trying to find the hiding balls on the pitch black fairways. As each player drove from the tee, the flight of the ball was followed off the tee, but lost when it came to the end of the flash light beam. However, when each of the players got within 30 or 40 feet of his ball, it popped into view on the dark, wet grass. As each player neared the green, the light was played on the pin, so that approaches could be made as nearly accurate as possible.

The various players took turns holding the flashlight on the hole so that putts could be made. It must have been a case of good golf, good flashlights, and good luminous paint, to account for such remarkable golf despite the pitch black conditions. Imagine scores ranging from three-to-seven strokes over par, when a ball can't be seen beyond the end of a golfer's nose. From now on I think I'll take this game in an easy chair, as reading about the big tournaments can't ever hurt my score.

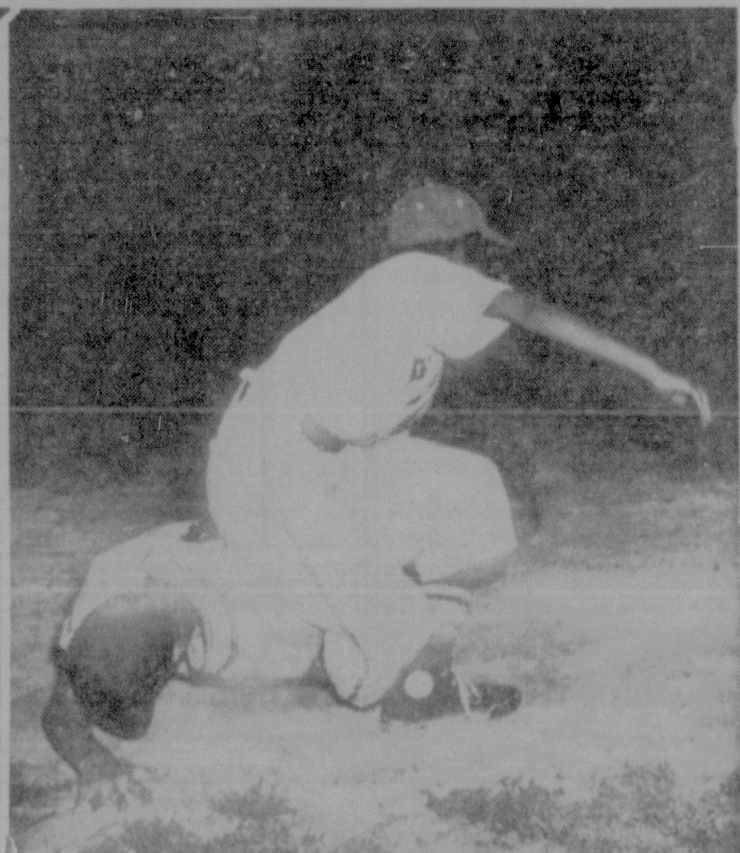

While East Stroudsburg's Little League is busy building a new field near Memorial stadium, the Stroudsburg circuit has advanced beyond preliminary ideas for a similar project, to be constructed near the Stroudsburg Playground. Each day it becomes more obvious that the Little League brand of baseball is here to stay and that even greater things may be expected from the sport in the future, although both circuits have been a huge success in their initial year of official activity.

Harvey Hauser, Mt. Bethel, according to unofficial reports, has been invited by the Philadelphia Athletics to attend a tryout camp at Lansford next Thursday. Hauser attended the diamond school held by the Philadelphia Phillies at Gordon Giffels field recently. Negro baseball returns to Bangor's Memorial Park a week from next Tuesday, with the Birmingham Black Barons opposing the New Orleans Eagles. This is the third game of its type to be held at this park in the 1951 season.

East Bangor and Pocono A.C. are scheduled to make up a rain-out at Blue Mountain league contest at Giffels field on Tuesday. First place will be at stake in the long awaited meeting of the two clubs. Dick Pritchard, one of the most spirited players this writer has ever seen on either the football or baseball fields is currently attending a summer school at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, when not holding down a shortstop berth for the Roseto entry in the Blue Mountain league. Dick, a regular student at ESSTC during the fall and winter months, was injured in Thursday's contest between Roseto and Pocono A.C.

A total of 144 happy kids from both the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Leagues will depart for Philadelphia's Shibe Park this morning at 8:30, to see the Philadelphia Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates in action. It will be the first trip of its nature for the two local circuits, but according to reports making the rounds a similar occurrence may be on tap for next season. Doug Schoonover's Inter-Borough League is presenting some good baseball action for youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 years inclusive.

National Bank was too much for the Methodists in the East Stroudsburg Little League last night and the former came up with a 15-4 victory over the Methodists at the East Stroudsburg Playgrounds last night.

Indians Clip Yankees In Hit Parade

Cleveland (AP) — The Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Yankees, 11 to 8 last night in a slugfest contest that saw eight pitchers parade to the mound and 28 hits bounce off their offerings.

Bob Lemon was credited with his ninth victory against eight defeats in winning the drawn-out contest that lasted two hours and 59 minutes. Frank Shea, who replaced starter Vic Raschi, was the loser.

Four players hit homers, Joe Collins, Jim Hegan, Gil McDougald and Al Rosen.

The Yankees took a quick lead by pushing over four runs in the third on Collins' grand slam circuit clout. They came back in the next frame to score twice when McDougald homered after Hank Bauer reached base on an error.

The Indians went to work in their half of the fourth, sending five men across the plate in a spurge featured by Jim Hegan's three-run homer.

The Indians' other big inning was the fifth when they scored four more runs and sent Raschi to the showers. Singles by Duke Mitchell, Bob Avila and Dale Easter produced one run and Al Rosen's homer brought in three more.

In addition to Raschi and Shea, the Yanks called on Jack Kramer, Joe Ostrowski and Tom Morgan for mound duty. Lou Brissie and Mike Garcia followed Lemon to the pitchers' box after he left the game in the seventh.

Of the 18 hits, the Indians got 13 and New York 15. New York 004 211 000—8 15 0 Cleveland — 000 541 10x—11 13 2

Reds Trip Braves

Boston (AP) — Johnny Woychik's two-run single enabled right-hander Howie Fox to pitch the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-0 shutout over the Boston Braves last night with a five-hit performance. Woychik's game-winning blow came after Fox singled and Connie Ryan doubled against Max Surkont in the third inning.

Fazio Remains In Front Of Western Field

By L. E. Skelley

Davenport, Ia. (AP) — George Fazio, the slight professional from the Pine Valley, N. J., club, scrambled to a 72 yesterday to hold a precarious one stroke lead at the halfway mark of the 72-hole Western Open Golf tournament.

The 36-year-old easterner, who opened with a tournament record 63 Thursday, slipped two over par in his second round over the 6,416-yard Davenport Country Club course. His 135 total for 36 holes was still good, however, for the front position.

Only a stroke behind the leader were Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill. Each had two 68's on the board.

Sam Snead, the Old Master seeking his third straight Western title, thrilled the late-day gallery with a 67, three under par, for the best round score.

Good Putt
Snead, seven strokes behind Fazio with an opening 70, closed the margin to only two strokes with his 137. Sam dropped a downhill 18-foot putt on the eighteenth to get his 67 for a round that included eight birdies.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., joined Snead at 137. Mangrum added a 69 to his 68 Thursday and Palmer got a 68 to go with a 69.

Only three strokes shy of the pacesetter at 138 were Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Minn., (67-71); Chuck Klein, San Antonio, (69-69); and Jim Turnesa, Biarritz, N. Y., (36-35).

Chick Harbert of Detroit had one of the most remarkable rounds of the second session. He went four over par on the first three holes, then settled down for a blistering back nine in 30, a course record. Harbert's 60 brought him at 139 where he was tied with Roberto DeVicenzo, the foreign threat from the Argentine.

Home
Roger Ray blasted a home run to right field for the winning team, as the number one blow in a six-run third frame for the National Bank, who also scored twice in the first, five in the second and two more in the fifth round.

Americans Defeat Japanese Stars

Chicago (AP) — Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., eliminated Japanese Davis Cup stars in quarter-final matches yesterday of the National Clay Court Tennis championship.

Trabert, intercollegiate singles champion, overpowered Fumiyuki Nakano, two man on the Japanese squad, 6-4, 6-0, 6-1.

Tough Going
Flam, seeded number two in the meet, found tougher going with Jiro Kumamaru, Japan's leading player. He won 3-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 in the most exciting match of the day at the suburban River Forest Club.

Other men's singles quarter-finals winners were topsed Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., the national champion, and L. Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif.

Senators Nip Tigers

Detroit (AP) — Big Bob Porterfield pitched and batted the Washington Senators to a 3 to 1 win over the Detroit Tigers last night. Porterfield won his second game against two losses and drove in the final Washington run.

Porterfield, the right hander acquired in a trade from the New York Yankees, allowed seven hits before he pulled a muscle in the hip after seven innings. He was relieved by Julio Moreno who gave up one hit.

Three Doubleheaders Scheduled For Pocono Mountain League Diamond Agenda Tomorrow

Three doubleheaders are on the Pocono Mountain league on that date found Kunkletown winning over Tobyhanna. Tomorrow's twin bill will find Lake Harmony playing at Reeders, while Barret invades Saylorsburg and Ansonim clashes with arch rival Tannersville in two hectic battles at the Pocono High school field.

The extra games were made necessary when rain washed out almost the entire slate listed for May 27. The only game played on that date found Kunkletown winning over Tobyhanna. Tomorrow's twin bill will find Lake Harmony playing at Reeders, while Barret invades Saylorsburg and Ansonim clashes with arch rival Tannersville in two hectic battles at the Pocono High school field.

The single tilts will pit George

N. Kemp American Legion Post against West End A.C. on the latter's home diamond in Gilbert, while Kunkletown tangles with Tobyhanna, on the Coolbaugh High school field.

Kunkletown is currently pacing the Pocono Mountain league, but has been receiving stiff competition from Saylorsburg in recent games, while the remainder of the circuit is closely bunched.

Security Trust Gains Favorable Decision Over Penn-Stroud Playground

Paced by Charley McNeal, Don Hickey and Tom Schaller, the Stroudsburg Security Trust hung an 11-6 defeat on the Penn-Stroud Hotel, after suffering a 16-0 loss at the hands of the same team only two days previously, in the Stroudsburg Little League, at Stroudsburg Playground.

McNeal lashed a circuit blow over the right field fence, for his third home run of the season and came up with two singles in four trips to the plate. Hickey delivered a pair of doubles and Schaller came up with two singles.

Masciarelli Becomes Second Hospital Victim For Small

Long Beach, N. Y. (AP)—George Small, of Brooklyn, knocked out Tony Masciarelli of New York in 28 seconds of the first round of a scheduled ten-round bout at Long Beach Arena last night and Masciarelli was taken to a hospital.

He was treated in emergency and an unidentified doctor said he was suffering a "possible concussion." Masciarelli, however, refused to be admitted and left immediately for his home, an official at Long Beach General hospital said.

Knocked Cold
An official at the Arena and that Masciarelli was incoherent after being knocked cold by a short left.

Small, who weighed 158, knocked out Laverne Roach, who subsequently died of injuries suffered in the bout, 16 months ago.

Masciarelli, who weighed 159, could not be reached at his home.

Phillies Nip Pirates, 3-2

Philadelphia (AP) — Robin Roberts allowed the Pittsburgh Pirates only two hits, a double by Joe Garagiola and a homer by Erv Dusak, as the Philadelphia Phillies nipped Pittsburgh 3-2 last night.

All the runs were scored on homers. The Phils tallied their three runs off Howie Pollet in the fourth. Tommy Brown hit a circuit blow with one on and Del Ennis followed with another with the bases bare.

Fourth Win
It was Roberts' fourth victory over the Bucs without a defeat.

Pollet, trying for his one hundredth big league victory, suffered his sixth defeat of the year against two wins.

Richie Ashburn beat out a drag bunt to first and was sacrificed to second by Willie Jones. He scored on Brown's homer. Ennis followed with his tenth circuit blow. That was all the Philadelphia scoring.

Robinson Wins Shawnee Tourney

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Mrs. George Robinson, Stroudsburg won first prize in a match play against par golf tournament, held here on the Shawnee Inn course Thursday, during the regular meeting of the Shawnee Ladies' Golf Association.

Mrs. Robinson was four down to par at the end of hostilities. Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr., of Shawnee, was five down to par and captured second place.

Putting Honors
Mrs. Robert K. Christenberry, of Shawnee, won the putting prize for the day, completing the 18 holes with 32 puts.

Each player used three-quarters of his handicap in figuring the final standings.

Giants Club Cardinals

New York (AP) — Wes Westrum and rookie Dave Williams belted grand slam homers last night to lead the New York Giants to an easy 14-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The triumph enabled the Giants to regain second place from the Cardinals, nine and one-half games back of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Steele To Face Apollos On Mound

Pocono A.C. will attempt to make up some ground in its fight to regain first place in the Blue Mountain league tomorrow, when the charges of Manager John Schoonover invade the domain of the tough Portland Apollos, who bowed to the A.C. contingent in their last meeting, 1-0, in one of the best games in the circuit, at Gordon Giffels field.

It is quite possible that fans making the trip to Portland will see the same two hurlers in action who locked up in that long to be remembered 1-0 battle. Ray Steele is a definite starter for Pocono A. C., while George South is a very probable hurler for the Apollos.

LINEUP

The remainder of the Pocono A. C. lineup will find John Drew behind the plate; Danny Eppley, first base; Russell "Lindy" Tranter, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop; Tom "Lem" Bonser, third base; Doug Schoonover, left field; Alden "Red" Fetherman, center field, and Bob Schick in right.

Portland has been playing good ball of late and has pulled itself to the top of the second division and is threatening to break into the top bracket at any moment.

The remainder of the Blue Mountain league schedule will find first place East Bangor playing at Stocktown, while third place Roseto stacks up against West Bangor. Johnsenville goes into action against Tatamy, on the latter's home field.

All Blue Mountain league action begins at 2 p. m.

Sunrise Racing Program Cancelled

Blakeslee — Last night's scheduled stock car races here at Pocono Sunrise Speedway were called off due to the fact that not enough spectators were in the stands to make racing practical.

Unofficial sources at a late hour last night revealed that owners of the track were undecided as to whether or not the regular weekly meeting would be held tomorrow.

Coward Gains Nod In Feature Bout On Soose's Ring Card

Tafton—A total of 470 spectators watched Roosevelt Coward, Philadelphia, gain a three-round decision over Herb Walker, Wilkes-Barre, in the feature amateur fight of a seven-bout card here at Bill Soose's Arena on the shores of Lake Wallenpaupack last night.

Coward is the national amateur champion.

Protege
Stan Seigel, Soose's 16-year-old protege from Pottsville, put on one of the best showings of the night in winning his three round bout by a decision.

Fighters from Sunbury, Pottsville, Wilkes-Barre and Philadelphia took part in the program. Professional wrestling will hold the center of the stage at Soose's arena next Friday night.

Second Marathon
Chicago (AP) — For the second straight night the league leading Boston Red Sox and second place Chicago Pale Hose battled into extra innings, with the score tied at 2-2 at press time, with the game in the seventeenth inning.

Davis Drake Assigned To Fighting Sixth

Straubing, Germany—Pvt. Davis A. Drake, son of Mrs. Pauline Marsh, 147 Ninth St., Stroudsburg, Pa. has been assigned to the Sixth Armored Cavalry Regiment in Straubing, Bavaria.

Pvt. Drake has become a member of one of the U. S. Army's oldest fighting units. Known as the "Fighting Sixth," the regiment was formed 90 years ago, May 4, 1861, and has seen action in every armed conflict the United States has fought since Civil War days.

After the Civil War, the regiment spent their next 30 years protecting the frontiersmen in the Wild West. The Boxer Rebellion, Philippine campaigns, Pershing's raid into Mexico after Pancho Villa, Spanish-American War, World War I and an excellent record in World War Two are all a part of the regiment's history of combat.

After more closely supervised training, Pvt. Drake will be assigned to a company for work as a part of a team in helping to guard "the eastern-most out-post of democracy (in Europe)" along the German-Czechoslovakian border.

Stroud Twp. School Board Elects Cramer President, Names Fourth Grade Teacher

The Stroud Township School board has elected Lauren Cramer to be president in place of Russell Waltz, former president who resigned. Mr. Waltz is moving from the community. John Schimmel was elected vice president.

Mrs. Lillian Shook, secretary of the board, announced that Miss Annabelle Niering has been elected to teach the fourth grade at the Clearview school, beginning with the fall term.

Miss Niering, who received her B. S. degree in elementary education from the Pennsylvania State College, class of 1951, is a graduate of Pocono Township High school. She attended Millersville State Teachers College and did her student teaching at York, Pa.

At Penn State, she was a member of the swimming club and president of the Association of Childhood Education, International.

Miss Annabelle Niering

Dr. Thos. I. Metzgar will be out of town and office will be closed from July 11 to 18.
